

Submission guidelines

Fully-developed manuscripts may be sent by email only. Only proposals with the following elements will be considered for publication:

- A cover letter briefly outlining your project, the intended audience (including age ranges), and your relevant expertise, if applicable.
- A market analysis which could be a list of similar titles and a detailed explanation of how your project differs from available products.
- For children's picture books, bracketed art suggestions are appreciated; illustration samples should not be sent unless professionally competent.
- A description of your personal promotion plans for the proposed book (including both in-person and social media outreach)

As you prepare a proposal, please keep a few of our main considerations in mind:

- Silver Bullet: What is the one thing that sets your story apart from similar available titles?
- Quality: Is the project well written and thoroughly researched?

Please type "Manuscript for Review" in the subject line and email your manuscript proposals to: skeezelpress@gmail.com.com

Please allow 7-10 days for a reply.
